The First Annual APP Cancer Research Summit is Coming to Las Vegas September 25 - 27!

This two-day conference is designed to empower advanced practice providers (APPs) with the knowledge and skills needed to excel in oncology-focused clinical research. ACRS will address various topics, including the basics of clinical trial design, toxicity grading, management, and documentation, the latest trends in cancer research, and more. This conference is planned and developed with clinical research APPs to ensure we provide the education and training APPs need and want. Held in conjunction with the Summit for Novel Therapeutics in Oncology & Precision Medicine in Cancer (STOP Cancer), ACRS welcomes seasoned clinical research APPs and those interested in cancer research. Our goal is to provide a forum for APPs interested or practicing in cancer research to learn, network, and collaborate.
